

3 Westchester Boys Confess To Accord Thefts, Arson; Deputy Frost Solves Cases

Stolen Articles Found in Hut; Three Places Burglarized and One Set on Fire

All Under Age
Investigation of Hansen Blaze Leads Officer to Suspect Trio

Entrance to three properties at Accord and an arson case has been solved by Deputy Sheriff William Frost through the apprehension of three boys from Westchester county who have been residing at Accord. The boys, nine, 11 and 15 years of age, confessed to the burglaries when Deputy Frost visited a hut which they had built and found a large number of articles removed from the three premises. Discovery of the burglaries was made following a fire at the summer place of Ralph Hansen of New York city located on the Granite road.

On Wednesday afternoon Charles DeWitt arrived home in the afternoon between 2 and 4 o'clock and observing a fire in the Hansen place he called the Accord fire department and from evidence found when the fire had been extinguished, it appeared that the fire had been set. Sheriff George Smith was notified and Deputy Frost began an investigation on Thursday.

His investigation led to the youthful trio and when the loot was found in the hut which the boys had erected, they confessed to the entrance to three places and also stated they had been responsible for the fire, Deputy Frost reported.

The boys said they had been visiting places over a five-week period and had taken articles from the Hansen, Perlman and Jesse Groh places.

Cigarette Fires Bed
Deputy Frost said the lads told him they had entered the Hansen place and finding a pack of cigarettes went to the attic for a smoke. One of the boys placed a lighted cigarette in a hot while they rummaged about the lower floors. Smelling smoke they returned to the attic and tried to extinguish the fire and when they were unsuccessful they left the place and went swimming.

Discovery of the fire shortly after a long list of articles taken from the three places was found in the shack hidden under evergreen boughs.

Names Withheld

Because of the youth of the three boys their names were not made public and Westchester county authorities are cooperating with local authorities in the matter. The older lad probably will have a hearing in Children's Court.

New Yorkers Get Out; Visitors Crowd City
New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Transportation Agencies reported today that New Yorkers were continuing to stream from the city at a record Labor Day rate as thousands of out-of-towners entered the metropolis to spend the weekend and here in many cases to witness American Legion Convention activities.

A spokesman for the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad said today that "it's the heaviest traffic we've ever handled at the city end, and bus and airlines echoed his sentiments.

Both the New York Central and the Pennsylvania Railroad had ordered all available equipment into service yesterday and a spokesman for the Central said unprecedented demands on the railroad's facilities had caused officials to order electrically driven cars used as far north as Poughkeepsie. Normally these cars are used only as far as Croton-on-Hudson.

Domestic airlines at La Guardia Field used all available equipment yesterday, with approximately 76 extra sections placed in operation.

Family Food Bill Hits New Peak

Eggs, Dairy Products, Meats, Chief Factors in Price Rise

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—The family food bill in 56 large cities rose 1.4 per cent between mid-June and mid-July, hitting a new peak for the second consecutive month, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said today.

The bureau's retail food price index for July was 193.1 per cent of the 1935-39 average. This was 16 per cent above a year ago and 106 per cent above the August, 1939 index.

Higher prices for eggs, dairy products and meats were the chief factors in the rise to July 15.

Egg prices jumped 11 per cent on the average as a result of strong demand, slowing production, and low storage stocks. The increase ranged from five per cent to 16 per cent in the 56 cities.

Dairy products climbed more than four per cent, reflecting short stocks of butter and seasonally lower milk production. Butter prices were up more than eight per cent, fresh milk three per cent and cheese two per cent.

The housewives paid 1 1/2 per cent for meats, fish and poultry as a group of July 15 than on June 15. All beef cuts advanced two to 3 1/2 per cent. Pork and lamb rose about one per cent and fish two per cent.

Among the 56 cities, the family food bill was higher in 49, lower in six, and unchanged in one. The advances ranged from 0.4 per cent in St. Paul to 2.4 per cent in Memphis and 2.6 per cent in Providence, where a one per cent sales tax became effective on July 1.

Declines ranged from 0.1 per cent in Minneapolis and Omaha to one per cent in Los Angeles.

Compared with August, 1939, retail food price increases varied from 90 per cent in St. Paul and 92 per cent in Minneapolis to 134 per cent in Memphis.

Yesterday the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that wholesale prices also continued to rise to new postwar peaks during the week ended August 23.

Final Approval Of Hemisphere Defense Nears

United States and 18 Other American Republics Meet for Final Treaty Approval

By Philip Clarke

Quitandinha, Brazil, Aug. 30 (AP)—The United States and 18 other American Republics meet today to give final approval to a historic treaty of defense, pledging all their armed might against aggression anywhere in the Western Hemisphere from pole to pole and from Greenland to the Aleutians.

Today's plenary session of the Inter-American Conference on peace and security was devoted to acceptance of the treaty as a whole.

The 17 principal articles were approved individually yesterday and last night, only two weeks after the various foreign ministers and their advisers commenced their momentous conference in the palatial Quitandinha Hotel.

The final problem of interpreting treaty-defined measures against aggression was solved cordially last night. Argentina's delegate Pascual La Rosa, rushed across the room to embrace United States Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) amid applause. He said the U. S. and Argentina were agreed on the problem.

Only a few hours before, in the Committee on Aggression, they had exchanged sharp words over whether collective armed action would be called for if U. S. forces were attacked outside the Inter-American security zone.

One treaty article provided for such action in event of invasion of a region under "effective jurisdiction" of any American state. Argentina asked if this included the U. S. Zone of Germany. She offered an amendment to limit joint armed defense to the security zone.

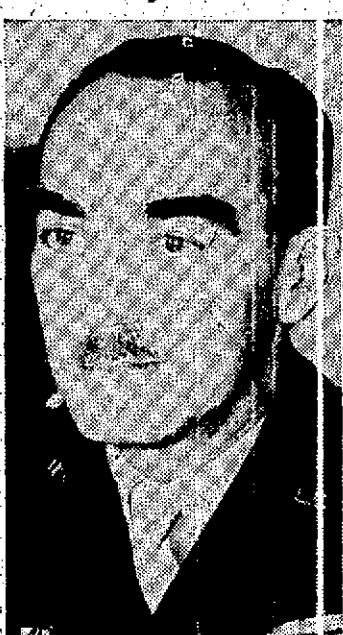

Subsequent heated debate wound up last night in withdrawal of the Argentine amendment and unanimous adoption of a Mexican compromise proposal under which only consultation would be resorted to in case of invasion of American-controlled territory elsewhere than in the Inter-American Zone. The Mexican amendment was in line with Vandenberg's interpretation.

President Truman and Colombian Foreign Minister Domingo Esguerra will address the final plenary session at 10 a. m. (EST) next Tuesday and the treaty then will be taken to the Tamara Palace in Rio de Janeiro, home of Brazil's foreign ministry, and there will be signed in a formal ceremony, which will be attended by President Truman.

Esguerra will invite the delegates to an Inter-American meeting in Bogota, Colombia, next January which will establish a joint staff of American military and naval forces, the treaty's armed defense measures and will work toward strong Pan-American ties in the educational, social and welfare fields. The joint staff will seek close cooperation between Latin America's half million armed men and U. S. forces of a

Woodstock, Aug. 30—Herbert L. Waterous, 78, one-time leading basso of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and for 30 years a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta star, died Friday at the Kingston Hospital.

For the past 10 years he resided in the Wittenberg section of this community with his wife, the former Elizabeth Jayne Herbert, an operatic star in her own right over the same period of years her husband enjoyed success on the stage.

Surviving besides Mrs. Waterous are two sons, Donald J. of New York city and Allen H. Waterous of Woodstock; also three grandchildren; a brother, Allen G. Waterous of New York, and a sister, Mrs. Irene Lanyon of San Francisco, Calif. Another son, Cy, who was a famous art director, died some years ago. The Rev. Harvey J. After joining the Metropolitan Opera Company, the Waterouses appeared with some of the world's most famous singers, including Caruso in 1908-09 and Placon. Holiday Traffic Heavy in Face of Rainfilled Skies

Rain today and a forecast of showers over the holiday weekend failed to slow up the flow of traffic to the city and vicinity as long lines of autos streamed over main routes of the area in almost unbroken procession since yesterday noon.

Travel was heavy through the city and over all major routes of the outlying districts, according to police reports, and the local police reported this morning that lines of autos in the steady flow reached from the Rondout Bridge to East Chester street as they were slowed up by traffic lights.

The stream of cars from the town and suburbs was as steady as ever experienced locally, the police indicated, but up until late this morning they passed through town without major mishap.

Cars increased in number on Route 9-W south of the city throughout yesterday afternoon until early evening they were jammed in a virtual, continuous and unbroken flow. The rush continued throughout the night, the police said, and it was still surprisingly steady just before noon.

Bus lines and the railroads also carried capacity loads and extra sections were added on most of the runs yesterday afternoon and evening.

Most resorts of the region were filled to capacity and several near the city reported that they were forced to turn away many visitors seeking rooms.

Ex-Soldier Is Accused of Stealing Photographs of Atomic Research Equipment

65,000 Line Up Today for Legion Climactic Parade

Sun Smiles at Start but Weather Bureau Warns of Showers Later in Day
By ALLAN FISHER

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—American Legion comrades, the greying ex-Doughboys and the younger, jaunty former G.I.'s, paraded up flag-lined Fifth avenue today as hundreds of thousands of spectators paid tumultuous tribute to the men of two world wars.

An estimated 65,000 marchers were lined up for the Legion's climactic parade, expected to last more than 12 hours over a 2 1/2 mile route 39 blocks long.

Mayor William O'Dwyer, a Legionnaire himself and wearing his overseas cap at a jaunty angle, led the parade at the start behind a mounted police escort.

The first atomic bomb was assembled and tested at Los Alamos. The project still is a major center for atomic research.

Hoover said that Kivi, when first interviewed, said he had made 500 official photographs of various stages of development of the atomic bomb. He later admitted, the F.B.I. director said, that he took the classified photographs when he left the army in February, 1946 and that several weeks later, he became "extremely concerned about the pictures and burned them."

Kivi was in the army from Sept. 1, 1942 until Feb. 6, 1946. After leaving Los Alamos, the F.B.I. said Kivi was employed at the Brookhaven National Laboratory of the Atomic Energy Commission at Patchogue, N. Y. He was relieved of that job immediately, Hoover added, "as a result of the investigation of the prior theft."

Hoover said that a complaint charging Kivi with the theft was filed before the United States commissioner at Santa Fe, N. M., yesterday.

Kivi was the third person this year to be charged with taking classified photographs.

Police headquarters was notified of the accident at 9:20 p. m. and Officers Walter VanSteenburgh and Francis Fagan were dispatched to the West Shore station in a patrol car. They brought the injured man to the Kingston Hospital. The finger, according to the report, was severed about a half inch from the tip.

Clears Way for Ending Hostilities With Italy, Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Romania

Other Treaties Reaction In Most European Capitals One of Relief

London, Aug. 30 (AP)—Russian ratification of peace treaties with five Axis satellites cleared the way today for a formal ending of hostilities for Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Italy and Romania.

The Moscow radio announced unexpectedly last night that the presidium of the Supreme Soviet had ratified the five treaties, signed in Paris last February 10.

Russia was the last of the four major powers to ratify and a British official said Andrei V. Vishinsky, deputy Soviet foreign minister, had promised that Russia would agree to deposit the instruments of ratification at "an early date," thus completing action and making the treaties effective. The instruments of ratification for the Italian treaty must be deposited at Paris, the others at Moscow.

Still to be drafted are treaties for Austria, Germany and Japan. By the terms of the satellite treaties, Russia stands to gain $900,000,000 in reparations, the only major power to claim such payments. She gets $500,000,000 each from Romania and Finland, $200,000,000 from Hungary and $100,000,000 from Italy.

From Romania Russia takes the eastern border province of Bessarabia; and from Finland she takes the northern port and province of Petsamo and a 50-year lease on Porkkala-Udd for a naval base.

Britain and the United States are required to withdraw their troops from Italy within 90 days and Russian troops must pull out of Bulgaria in a like period, but the treaties give Russia the right to keep soldiers in Hungary and Romania so long as it is necessary to protect communications to occupied Austria.

The reaction in most European capitals was one of relief that now the first part of the peace-making job was done. Some sources felt, however, that Russian ratification—coming only a few days after approval was rushed through the parliament of Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary—heralded an attempt to facilitate the admission of eastern European countries into the United Nations, perhaps when the United Nations assembly meets next month.

Mario Scelba, Italian minister of the interior, said in Rome that Russia apparently delayed ratification of the Italian treaty in order to keep Italy from winning U.N. membership last week. Premier Alcide de Gasperi expressed hope that now Italy could be approved for the U.N.

Other results of the completed action on the treaties included: The ending of allied control commissions in the five countries. Diplomatic representatives now will be empowered to supervise administration of the treaty provisions.

The birth of the new free territory of Trieste. Conflicting claims by Italy and Yugoslavia for the vital port at the head of the Adriatic made necessary a compromise establishing the new free port territory. Under the Italian treaty, the U.N. Security Council is empowered to appoint a governor. Until he is named, the United States, Britain and Yugoslavia are authorized to keep 5,000 troops each in their respective zones.

All five of the former enemy countries have ratified their own treaties, which will cost them a total of $1,330,000,000 in reparations. The United States ratified the treaties of the four countries with which it was at war—Bulgaria, Hungary, Italy and Romania—some time ago.

TACTFUL PARENTS

A complaint of many young married people, against the thoughtlessness of their parents who stop in to see them when they are having company is described in the following letter: "It is surprising how many mothers and fathers take it for granted that our friends will be just as glad to see them as we would be if we were by ourselves. They think that any time they want to drop in and stay for a lengthy visit, it must be all right since who should be welcome, if not they, in their children's homes! This is, of course, true to a point, but when they find a party is in progress, they should realize that their presence can cause constraint, especially when many present are strangers to them."

When your parents arrive at your house and hear that there is a party going on, it would be much more considerate of them not to go in because of the awkwardness of taking leave soon after their arrival. If they arrive before the guests, they leave as the first people arrive and say, "We were just going."

A Fact You Have To Face
Dear Mrs. Post: I've been married eight years and have three small children. My husband was married before and had one child, who is with us too. (His first wife died.) We've only come here to live recently and the other evening was the first time I ever had been in his mother's house for dinner. I noticed then that she had a large picture of my husband's first wife and his child by this marriage standing on the piano in the living room. I wouldn't have minded a picture of the mother with the child alone, but I think it was unnecessarily thoughtless of her and inconsiderate of me to have had the "family group" displayed. Am I right?

Answer: Supposing that they always have had that picture in that place, putting it away would have shown extreme self-consciousness. After all, you knew she was married to your husband and that the child was theirs.

Usually No
Dear Mrs. Post: Will you kindly tell me if the minister and his wife are invited to the rehearsal dinner? This will be the evening before The Day.
Answer: Although they are not usually included, if they are intimate friends, it is, of course, proper to invite them.

Have you wondered how you should begin a letter and how to bring it to a close? Mrs. Post's booklet, No. 502, "Etiquette of Letter Writing," is full of helpful information. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her, care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. PEACEFUL LABOR

Labor Day probably finds the American workman, on the whole, in a position as advantageous as he has ever held. There are, to be sure, some divisions in the ranks, and differences in methods of operation and some worries over the new law, but these are by no means fatal, and might be characterized in general as rather healthful variations. Of "labor wars" there seem to be few on the horizon. It is a wholesome outlook, which bodes well for the coming year. Labor seems to have gained and held its rights, in the main, without such struggles as were formerly familiar and feared alike by labor and public.

This is the civilized way, the way in which both sides may prosper and grow to their full stature and the whole body politic may prosper and endure.

MODEST ENTERPRISE

For janitorial duties and other services beyond the call of duty, Walter Clausius of Chicago seems to be supreme, in his own realm. He is rated as a first class baby sitter, serving nobly in this sphere, and also a supreme toy fixer, dog walker and gin rummy player. So it is no wonder that on a recent birthday he was greeted with a shower of 50 dollars, various cans of beer, pretzels and cakes, and an extra dollar to grow on.

There were other services, too, which deserve citation, such as a crimson heart for valiant walking of dogs around, repairing radios, clocks, furniture and household appliances of various sorts, not to mention the elimination of squeaks from water faucets, and so on. It is evident that there is practically no limit to the useful services available to men of skill and talent when they once apply their minds to such useful purposes.

But Dagwood had better not let Blondie hear about this!

CRITICIZING GENERALS

"A stab in the back" and "an injustice to the United States". Thus Lieut. Gen. John C. H. Lee, commander of American troops in the Mediterranean area, dismisses charges that he has been overstrict in his discipline, and regards ordinary soldiers as merely servant material for his higher officers.

The charges may or may not have been well founded. They have a familiar ring to ex-service men, who heard many such stories about army officers, and sometimes were unfortunate enough to serve in some which were run like that. General Lee is wrong, however, in identifying himself with the United States. From President down to deputy sheriff, public officials and officers in the armed services are available for criticism, and must expect a good deal. The criticism may be wrong, but it is not unpatriotic. No man serving the United States in any capacity is above criticism.

Who says these modern kids are lazy? A fourteen-year-old in West Virginia spent 700 hours building a soap box for the derby, and won the race. A lad like him might even bring in the winter wood.

HOLIDAY LOGISTICS

America is a big country. Her people are chronic travelers. During the summer holidays, family cars by the millions roll from coast to coast.

Recently a driver on a western highway, in a three-hour period, encountered cars from twenty-two states—and he missed identifying a number of "foreign" licenses. Jalopies, hot rods, and limousines, many festooned with trailers, jockeyed for position on the straightaway. Gas, oil and tires were consumed with lavish abundance. No one gave a thought to the next tank of fuel. Service stations were almost as numerous as the leaves on the trees. The shining sedan from New York had only to pull up to the nearest pump for a few seconds and then be on its way again, after filling up with the same

FISTS AGAINST GOD

When a fellow butts into a quarrel that is none of his business, he is liable to have his ears bitten off. It is like walking into one of those gentle altercations between a husband and wife who are ready to murder each other but who turn jointly and severally upon the peacemaker and rend him.

Also, I am told that religion is a bad subject to discuss because it is taken too seriously by those who are interested. As I have been discussing religion for some 40 years, beginning at the knee of my rabbinical father, I have no fears about it. In fact, there is a fairly good record of at least 6,000 years of such discussion in the course of which some were stoned, beheaded, crucified, burned alive, imprisoned, pilloried and spat upon, beatified, sanctified and glorified.

It is with this premonition that I, who am neither a Catholic nor a Protestant, protest vehemently against the current quarrel among Christians which seems to me unruly, harmful and without foundation. At a time such as this, when a world-wide attack is being made on all the religions of God, when ugly, amoral materialism is being offered our children as sound thought, when millions of human beings have been displaced and even killed for their faith, it appears unseemly for the clergy of different sects to be at each other's throats, fighting over trivialities when the first of the enemy is always against God.

My own people have suffered horribly because a vested interest has grown up in the attack upon them and the defense of them. There is money in that business, both ways—being against and being for. How much more has been collected one way or the other, I do not know. Some day maybe a Congressional Committee will get at that, for, I am sure that it will not be a pretty story. Perhaps that game has played itself out and we are to have the spectacle of a Catholic-Protestant fight with the same old pinkoes moving in on it for all that the traffic will bear.

The principal issue seems to be that Catholic parochial schools have been claiming participation in certain social benefits provided American children through taxes. As I find the facts, no Catholic school has requested any State government for funds for buildings or teachers, for libraries, laboratories or other equipment. The Catholic Schools have contended that if buses or free lunches, medical examinations, dental clinics or other social services are provided by the State for any American children, they should be given to all American children whatever their religion.

The two arguments usually adduced against the Catholics are: (1) that the State provides a free school system and that when parents choose to send their children to other schools, they automatically exclude themselves from whatever benefit the children in the public school system enjoy; (2) that the ideal of Church and State is imperiled by the very existence of the parochial school.

What is involved here is the nature of education in a free society. Certainly the separation of Church and State cannot mean that the child is not to be educated in the faith of his parents whatever that faith may be, nor can it mean that the State, in providing social services for American children, should discriminate between the child of one religion and the child of another. If that is the logic of the situation, then only the children of atheists should benefit from the social services provided by the State. If that concept is false, what excuse exists for objecting to Catholic children riding to whatever school they go to in buses provided by the State?

Instead of fomenting strife, the clergy should join together with other men of God in a united front against all who corrupt and pervert our children by eliminating religious and moral education. Millions are dying for their faith and these folks quarrel over buses for school children. I would provide buses to bring our children to Sunday schools, to churches—of any faith, of any denomination—that they might hear the word of God and not live in darkness.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

CAN INFLUENZA BE PREVENTED

Physicians who treated influenza patients during the epidemic of 1918-1919 will never forget how powerless seemed our methods of treatment. Just why what we called ordinary flu would go on to pneumonia and bronchopneumonia and the heart finally fail, was hard to understand. Since then we have learned that the organism we thought was the cause of flu could be found in the nose and throat of those who are well? What do we now know about influenza and can it be prevented?

Speaking on "The Study of Epidemic Influenza" at the Royal Institute of Public Health and Hygiene, Prof. C. H. Stuart-Harris stated that the modern study of influenza had begun 15 years ago and today every modern laboratory is equipped to recognize the two types of influenza viruses, A and B. Epidemics of influenza were studied in order to demonstrate the type of virus contracted, and to show the difference between outbreaks of influenza and other diseases of nose, throat and bronchial tubes which occur about the same time of year in certain climates.

In the past epidemics of influenza, a virus infection, have occurred in certain communities and appeared to miss others, so the number or percentage of cases in a community and also in the general population was studied. It was found that the number of specimens in the laboratory showing the virus was in direct proportion to the number of cases present in the community.

"There was evidence of periodicity of the influenza virus infection with cycles at well-defined intervals." This meant that an epidemic could be expected at a certain time whether it would be mild or severe could not be predicted.

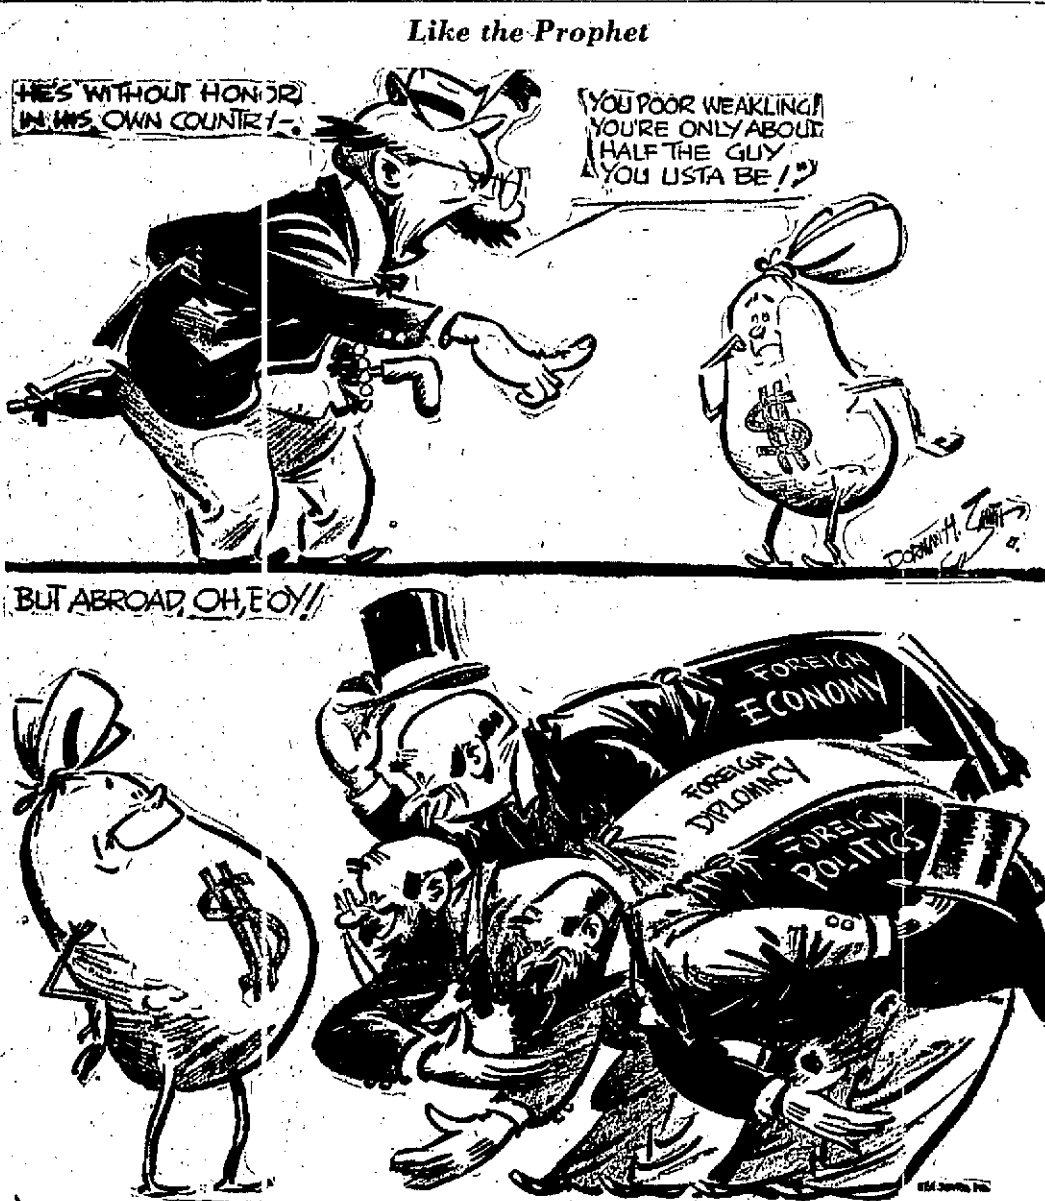

Fortunately, a number of volunteers in the military forces volunteered to be inoculated with cultures of influenza virus developed during the war in order to find if this gave protection against influenza. The results provided a basis for field trials of its protective powers in advance of influenza epidemics, and the success of these trials suggests that influenza is a preventable disease.

type of fuel it used in its home state. How many of us who drive America's thirty million autos stop to think of the staggering logistical problem which must be solved by strategists in the oil industry who are responsible for keeping us happily on wheels? Supplying a fast moving army is a feat requiring great skill—but think of millions of vacationists using more gas than an army, moving in response to personal whims rather than prearranged orders!

Miraculously, everyone seems to be able to get where they are going. In some manner the gas pumps have been kept full, thanks to the oil men behind the men at the service stations.

So They Say...

This country can't carry water on two shoulders. Either we have got a definite policy to stop the spread of communism or we haven't.

Fruit butters add health and flavor to breads.

Apple Butter
(Makes 6 pints)
Twelve pounds apples, 1 gallon sweet cider, 1 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1 1/3 cups light corn syrup.

Wash apples; cut in quarters and core. Meanwhile bring cider to a boil in large kettle. Add apples to boiling cider and cook slowly, stirring occasionally until mixture resembles thin, lumpy applesauce. Remove from heat and force through sieve. Return to kettle and boil moderately, stirring constantly, until mixture is thick enough to stand up on spoon.

That big armchair near the window—home base for hide-and-seek and looks it! With school beginning soon and youngsters back to normal routine, you might be thinking of re-covering that chair. And you can do a professional job, too, with the pin-cut-sew method.

No patterns to fool with, just drape the material right on the chair, being certain the design is centered if you use figured fabric. Pin along the top edges and sides and then cut well outside the pin lines to allow generously for seams.

Pin and cut the same way for the arms, back and front and baste together. Put cover back on the chair for a final fitting before machine-stitching.

How to select the right material for your pin cut: how to make plaquettes, flounces and pleats are all described in our Reader Service booklet No. 35.

Concord Grape Butter
(Makes about 12 glasses, 6 fluid ounces each)
Five cups pulp, 7 1/2 cups sugar, 1/2 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare, wash and stem about 5 1/2 lbs. fully ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. Add 1/4 cup water, bring to a boil, cover and simmer 5 minutes. Place in large sieve lined with double layer of cheesecloth. Drain 4 cups juice and use for making grape jelly or grape juice. Remove cheesecloth and use fruit remaining in sieve for grape butters. Run grapes from which juice has drained, through sieve to obtain pulp. Measure sugar and grape pulp into large saucepan, filling up last cup with excess juice or water, if necessary. Mix well. Bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire.

Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot butter at once.

Washington (AP)—Clutching a few pennies in my grimy little hand, I called on the World Bank today to open an account.

Right off, I could see that something was wrong.

For there were the usual reassuring signs of banking life? Where were the pens that always promise to write better than they do?

Where were the discreet calendars of the Indian lady in a canoe?

Where were the tellers behind the bars that are a subtle reminder of what happens to little tellers with sticky fingers?

Where, in short, was the bank? No teller, but a publicity man named Henry Brown, came to my rescue.

He said that not only does the bank have no tellers, it doesn't even have many bankers. Not in the usual sense, at least. Most of its 340 employees are statisticians, secretaries and lawyers.

Although the bank has $8,000,000,000 in the cat (that's too big to call a kitty), not a dime of this can be seen.

The bank handles its spare cash just like you do. It takes it to the bank. Most of the money is in the Federal Reserve Bank of New York City. The rest is scattered in banks all over the world.

Its real name is the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, and the idea is to advance loans to help war-torn nations make the switch from war to a reasonable facsimile of peace.

But the wheels of International Finance grind slowly. So far only four loans have gone through, to France, the Netherlands, Denmark and Luxembourg.

At least one of the bank's directors has been in jail. Pierre Mendes-France, of the country of the same name, was tossed in the jug by the Vichy government. This now is considered a compliment.

Since the 45 stock owning nations have three-fourths of the world's population, the bank, in effect, has 1,500,000,000 depositors. Main absentees: Russia, Spain, Argentina.

The U. S. had $3,175,000,000 in the bank. So every man, woman and child in the country would have around $22 if this were split up equally—which is most unlikely.

With more stock than anyone else, the U. S. gets 32,000 votes. Panama has the least stock, and gets 252 votes.

Every country which joins the bank gets 250 votes. From then on the balloting becomes a trifle expensive—$100,000 a vote.

When Brazil said this I quietly dropped the pennies in my pocket. I guess they'll have to hold the election without me.

Wash apples; cut in quarters and core. Meanwhile bring cider to a boil in large kettle. Return to kettle and boil moderately, stirring constantly, until mixture is thick enough to stand up on spoon.

That big armchair near the window—home base for hide-and-seek and looks it! With school beginning soon and youngsters back to normal routine, you might be thinking of re-covering that chair. And you can do a professional job, too, with the pin-cut-sew method.

No patterns to fool with, just drape the material right on the chair, being certain the design is centered if you use figured fabric. Pin along the top edges and sides and then cut well outside the pin lines to allow generously for seams.

Pin and cut the same way for the arms, back and front and baste together. Put cover back on the chair for a final fitting before machine-st

Ferry Still Carries Many to Dutchess

Although figures on pedestrian and vehicular traffic across the river via the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry dipped a little Friday, the New York State Bridge Authority revealed this morning that yesterday's total of 526 foot passengers and 972 vehicles was the second high for the week to date.

The heavy traffic via the ferry is the result of special runs now being conducted to accommodate visitors to the 102nd annual Dutchess County Fair now being held in Rhinebeck.

Including Friday's traffic, the four-day total has now reached 1,727 pedestrians and 3,471 vehicles.

The present high mark for the week was set Thursday when 588 pedestrians and 994 vehicles were carried across the river.

Special trips to Rhinebeck will continue today. The last trip from Kingston is at 11:20 and from Rhinecliff at 11:30 p. m. The fair closes today.

Freak Squeak
Driving through the beautiful Virginia countryside, Mrs. Edward Comfort of Boston thought her 15-month-old baby seemed to be enjoying the ride too. In a basket strapped to the car seat, the infant was peacefully drinking milk from a nursing bottle. Suddenly, with a hefty swing, the baby bopped Mamma neatly on the head with the bottle. Groggily Mrs. Comfort let go of the wheel and the car lurched in a ditch. Mother and child escaped injury, except for the bump on Mrs. Comfort's head.—Coronet.

Dodgers Lose to Nazareth, 5-3, Pennant Delayed One Day

Pitchers Too Wild

The pennant celebration for the Kingston Dodgers was postponed at least 24 hours last night, when the league leaders dropped a 3-5 decision to the Nazareth Tigers in Pennsylvania, while Carbondale trounced Nyack to stay five games behind the leaders, with five to go.

Thus, any combination of one Kingston victory or one Carbondale setback will bring the 1947 championship to the city. George Pratt and his gang try again tonight in Peekskill.

Kingston outlived the Tigers, 8-6, but a four-run cluster in the sixth decided the issue for the home club.

Gutshall Triples
Willie Gutshall, a nemesis throughout the season, tripled off Johnny Rogan in the second and scored on Rickard's single for a 1-0 lead. Rogan pitched seven terms with Bob Curtis, Nazareth ace, until the sixth when a four-run barrage chased him to the showers and Johnny Zigmund took over.

Rogan was a victim of his own wildness. He walked two men, permitted a single to load the bases and then hit Stasiak to force in a run. Zigmund replaced him, struck out Hoen, but Curtis stung him for a double to left scoring two runs. Zigmund entered the spirit of the occasion by walking two more batters to force in the fourth marker of the frame.

Wins 16th
Curtis, notching his 16th victory of the season, subdued the Dodgers in the first six frames but had several anxious moments in the seventh and eighth but each time the vital hit was lacking. Antonetz singled to open the seventh. Zigmund tapped to Richards and both runners were safe on Richards' bad throw to second. After Kerr walked to load the bases, Newhard hit a dribbler in front of the plate and all hands were safe when Curtis fumbled the ball. The back of the rally was broken when Chris Kitzos jammed into a double play and Kowalski tapped to the pitcher.

In the Dodger eighth, Williams singled, Rosa forced him at second and Orlemann singled putting runners on first and second with one out. Antonetz grounded to Halvonik who elected to force Orlemann at second and Rosa, with a typical burst of speed, kept on coming and scored on a boom-boom play at the plate.

Toronto Swimmer Cops Marathon

Toronto, Aug. 30 (AP)—Toronto's Ben Gazel combined endurance and stamina last night to win the Canadian national exhibition world's championship professional 10-mile swim and $5,000. Jerry Kerschner of Columbus, Ohio, took second prize of $2,500. Stephen Wozniak, Buffalo, N. Y., came home third to take a $1,000 check and Bert Courage, of Saratoga, N. Y., was fourth to win $750.

Busy Weekend For Local Golfers

Activities at Wiltwyck Golf Club over the week-end will include a Labor Day flag tourney, and a best ball match play against par event. Each member is urged to select a partner and try their luck against this most difficult of opponents. Play will be over 18 holes at one-half regular handicap. A contestant may enter with as many partners as he chooses. The usual ball sweepstakes and flag tournament will be held at Twaalfskill.

GEORGE PRATT

Kingston Dodger skipper who has a mania for No. 1 these days, and with good reason. The Dodgers need one victory or one Carbondale loss to wrap up the 1947 North Atlantic League pennant but it has been a long time coming. Well, maybe tonight in Peekskill. (Freeman Photo.)

N.A.L. Playoff Data

The Class D North Atlantic League playoffs for 1947 open at municipal stadium on Wednesday, September 3, at 8 p. m., with the Kingston Dodgers opposing the Peekskill Highlanders in the first two games of a best four out of seven semi-final.

The teams are scheduled in Kingston on Wednesday and Thursday. Three games are listed in Peekskill, and the sixth and seventh, if necessary, will be played at the stadium.

The first team in the final regular standings will play the third place team, and the second place squad meets the fourth place team, on the home field of the first and second teams in the opening games. The two survivors engage in a 7 game playoff for the President's Cup.

Each club is allowed fifteen men, all of whom must have been with the clubs 20 days prior to the close of the league schedule. If any club is sorely in need of a player, the club may replace a regular with a rookie.

In the finals, the winning team gets $300 from the league, and the losing team $200.

Bowling Notices

The Emerick Ladies' League will hold their first meeting of the season on Tuesday, September 2, at the Y.M.C.A. at 7:30 p. m. All members are urged to attend.

The Colonial Women's Bowling League will hold its organizational meeting on Wednesday, September 3, at 7:30 p. m., at the Central Recreation alley. It is urged that all who wish to bowl attend this meeting as the league schedule will start on September 10.

A meeting of the 1946-47 and 1947-48 bowling league presidents of the city has been called for Wednesday, September 3, at 7:30 p. m., at the Y.M.C.A. Important business will be discussed.

Everett Stevens Heads Valley Football League

C. Everett Stevens, former athletic director at Newburgh Free Academy, was named president of the Hudson Valley Semi-Pro Football League at the league's first 1947 organization session this week.

The Colonial City Huskies, Kingston's newest semi-pro football venture, are members of the four-team circuit that also includes the defending champion Middletown Blue Devils, Walden Red Tigers and Port Jervis Veterans.

Stevens succeeds John Law, former Wallkill Prison sports director, as president. Law is now line coach at Holy Cross. Newburgh, a fifth member of the 1946 circuit, was not represented at the meeting.

Roy Vogt Will Not Defend Title

Roy Vogt, 1946 Kingston city and Wiltwyck Club golf champion, will not defend his Wiltwyck title this season according to the pairings for the 1947 competition released today by Tommy Danaher, Wiltwyck pro.

Vogt won the 1946 title in a hotly disputed playoff against Maurice Davenport and then defeated Dr. Fred Holcomb, Jr., of Twaalfskill, in an 18-hole playoff for the city title.

Davenport Favored
With Vogt out of the running, Maurice Davenport will rule favorably with J. Watson "Watts" Bailey and youthful Bill Van Alen rated as definite threats. The Class A championship division will be played on a scratch basis, while the handicap will prevail in the Class B and Class C sections.

All first round matches must be played by September 7 or be defaulted. Each succeeding round must be played within a 7-day period.

The Fightin' and Feudin' Has Stopped; Would Roll Them Dodgers Just Love Those Giants In Gotham

Armed-Assault Race in Gotham

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—It was up to Ben Jones, trainer of Calumet Farm's Armed, and Max Hirsch, conditioner of King Ranch's Assault, today to decide whether the great match race between the two stars of the turf might still take place this season.

Belmont Park is willing to stage the spectacle on Saturday, September 27, if the two trainers find their horses are fit, George D. Widener, president of Belmont, said in a statement yesterday. Conditions identical with those planned for the race in Chicago which was cancelled because of soreness in Assault's hoof would prevail, Widener announced.

That means it would be at the

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

There was a time when it wasn't considered safe for a New York Giant player to be seen walking in the streets of Brooklyn. Today the thankful Flatbush citizenry is ready to spread out the welcome mat for anybody wearing a Giant uniform.

In recent years a Giant appearance at Ebbets Field inevitably means a Dodger victory. In the past three years, the Brooks have whipped the Giants 25 times in 29 games on their home grounds. They won nine of 11 in 1945, 10 to 11 last year and thus far this season, have flattened their kindly neighbors six times in seven engagements.

It's Love Now

Not only have the Giants been accommodating to the Brooks but they've been especially troublesome to the Dodgers' arch-foes, the St. Louis Cardinals. In 19 engagements with the Redbirds, the Giants have come out on top 10 times. So it is easy to see why the Dodgers' hate for the Giants has turned to love.

The Giants played their usual role of stooges at Ebbets Field last night when they bowed to the Brooks 6-5 enabling the Dodgers to increase their National League lead over the idle Cardinals to seven and a half games.

Jackie Robinson, who contributed a single to the five-run sixth inning rally, stole home while Joe Beggs was warming up in that inning. It was his 24th stolen base and his third steal of home this season.

Marshall Hits 32nd

Willard Marshall's 32nd home run was the Giants' 181st of the season. One more will tie the major league record of 182 set by the New York Yankees of 1935.

The Boston Braves moved within a half game of the second place Cards by tripping the Phillies in Philadelphia in a 17-hit attack.

The Yankees beat Washington 4-3 in the 10th when George McQuinn hit a long fly with one out and the bases loaded to score a runner from third.

Eddie Pellagrini doubled in two runs in the last of the seventh to enable the Red Sox to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics 2-1 in Boston. Lefty Mickey Harris, who went the route for the first time this season, limited the A's to three hits for his fifth victory.

Hutchinson Wins

Landing on Ellis Kinder for four runs in the sixth, the Detroit Tigers defeated the Browns in St. Louis 5-4. Fred Hutchinson, who recorded his 13th victory, helped his own cause when he tripped and stole home. Vern Stephens hit his 14th homer for the losers.

The scheduled game between the Chicago White Sox and Indians at Cleveland was postponed by rain. Pittsburgh, Chicago, Cincinnati and the Cardinals in the National League were not scheduled. All games were played at night.

Oh, Mr. Shaughnessy:

Baseball lightning struck twice in the same spot Thursday, atmospheric experts notwithstanding, and if you were lucky enough to witness both flashes you got a glimpse of real Americana. Sheer duty placed us on the spot both times and, even after 15 years of baseball reporting, they rated as a couple of rare showpieces.

We refer, of course, to Morgan's dramatic last inning uprising over The Hofbrau, and the Dodgers' ninth-inning blast that beat Bloomingdale, 6-5. Here were two classic examples of the old baseball adage that the ball game is never over until the last out.

For sheer dramatic intensity, the accolades go to the Morgan-Hofbrau denouement. Morgan's, a far cry from the ball club that mopped up the Athletic Field with the championship Jones Dairy outfit, was three outs away from complete humiliation—three straight bickings at the hands of a ball club they figured to whip handily. Then came the explosion. It was quick, overpowering, dramatic.

When Emotion Reigns:

When Bill Tierney crossed the plate with the winning run that forced a continuation of the series, the scene that followed has seldom, if ever, had a parallel in City League history. At least not within our memory, and that goes back to 1890. On the one side, the Morgan rooters, completely frustrated and needed a ray of hope, the Hofbrau rooting section through three games were rolling in a wild, uninhibited, intoxicating victory celebration.

Some of the female contingent appeared to have gone stark, raving mad with joy. On the Hofbrau side of the plate, the emotional pendulum had swung all the way around in the opposite direction. A few of the young ladies were on the verge of breakdown. Everywhere you looked men were picking their chins off the Athletic Field soil. There was only a run difference between the clubs, but the two rooting sections were emotionally a world apart.

Baseball must be a magnificent game, a forceful motivating factor in the lighter side of Americana, if people still react in that manner. But let us remember that it is only a sport and the game is played and won or lost and then left on the field. No victory or defeat justifies the straining of friendships that have existed for years.

The members of both squads are fighting a magnificent series and regardless of which team wins, let's stand up and cheer for both winner and loser. The fact that the City League in 1947 returned twilight ball to pre-war eminence is more important than whether Morgan or the Hofbrau win the playoff series. And it's just that. The "championship" went to Jones Dairy a long time ago.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Success story of the year: Alton Gilbert's development from a raw rookie to one of the ace pitchers of the North Atlantic League. . . . Right now Gilbert, the strong silent one, is No. 1 on the Dodger future books. . . . Don't forget "Appreciation Night" at municipal stadium next Thursday night. . . . If you appreciate the type of baseball the Dodgers have given the town and are sincere in your desire to have them return in 1948, it would be wise to show your hand that night. . . . The Dodger players deserve a real turnout for that occasion. . . . Sam Kalloch again will direct the Poughkeepsie gridiron forces this season and here's hoping. . . . on August 29, that Bill Burke plus his ears back, but good. . . . The DUSO League may play soccer this year. . . . Probable entries: Middletown, Monticello, Ellenville and Fallsburg. . . . District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn justifying his first flight rating in the Wiltwyck championships by firing a 38 on Twaalfskill, or isn't that the right place to do it. . . . The caddie problem has been unusually acute this season. . . . Too many hot, sticky days, when who wouldn't rather be in a swimming hole. . . . If anybody in the boxing racket, with the exception of Joe Louis, hits any harder than Paul Simpson, we'd like to see the pugilistic "phenom". . . . Paul's kayo over Phil Alston on the "Carnival of Champions" was cold blooded exhibition of sheer destruction with one punch.

Of Men and Mice:

Coach Frank La Falce of Highland High, a Maroon gridiron nemesis in recent years, battles his old coach, Bill Burke, when the southern Ulster gridriders come to the stadium on Friday, September 26. . . . Kingston rooters want a repeat in the DUSO League, but if there is one game that they want to win above all others, it certainly must be the fracas with Highland. This contest may well develop into one of the all-time gridiron classics in K.E.S. history. . . . And there is going to be an awful lot more.

"MULLIGAN" MIKE SAYS:

He saw that prominent Catskill doctor and the Kingston jurist at the fights the other night. They left their horses outside the park.

TRAP SHOOT MONDAY, SEPT. 1st

Vaccination of Calves Cuts Bangs Disease

Holcomb, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Bangs disease is "much less common" among New York cattle than it was a few years ago, because of a stepped-up calf vaccination campaign, a state Agriculture Department official said today.

Dr. E. V. Moore, assistant commissioner, reported in a prepared address that half of the calves raised annually in the state were being vaccinated against the disease. The occasion of his speech was here today Field Day at the Holcomb Hereford Farms in Ontario county.

Cows stricken with Bang's disease, known scientifically as brucellosis, are unable to reproduce. Since the program was instituted a few years ago, Moore said, 500,000 calves have been vaccinated, 150,000 of them in the last 12 months.

Polar Bear Resents Photo Being Taken

Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—The question of who would get whose skin arose between a Polar bear and the president of Link Aviation, Inc.

The 800-pound bear lost, and Edwin A. Link thins Stuart McLean of Louisville, Ky., for that. Link brought the bear skin and this story back from Hudson Bay.

He put down his amphibious plane to take moving pictures of the bear as it lumbered out of the water of Cape Jonsson. Twenty feet away the bear charged. Link shot his revolver several times in vain. McLean, using a rifle, hit the bear "right between the eyes," Link said, and stopped him less than 15 feet away.

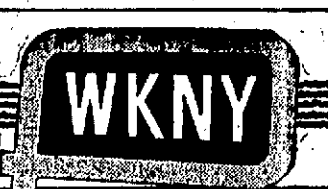

The men counted 10 bullet holes in the carcass.

Tall Corn

This isn't Iowa—it's a Chicago backyard where this tall corn is growing. Despite scorching weather, Alphonso Durso, 14, raised 12-foot stalks, believed to be city's highest.

did—cash the king of spades, hoping to drop the queen. Of course he lost the contract because he found three to the queen in the West hand.

The false-card of the ten by East could do him or his partner no harm, and it might win, as it did in this case.

Chinese Announce Capture

Tsingtao, China, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Chinese Navy said today its first amphibious attack in the civil war—mounted by U. S. trained and equipped assault troops—had captured the Communist port of Shihkiuso. After seizing the port, 60 miles southwest of Tsingtao, strong forces are pushing inland and are threatening the Communist base of Jihchao, six miles to the west, the navy asserted.

Has to Watch His Stamps

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Lt. Col. Henry T. (Hank) Myers said today he is beginning to shudder at the mere sight of a postman. He said letters are pouring in which people want him to carry down to Rio de Janeiro on the presidential airplane "Independence" and airmail back to the United States. The idea is to have a souvenir which rode with President Truman on the Chief Executive's first trip in the craft which has succeeded the "Sacred Cow" as the White House airliner. The trouble is, the President's pilot told a reporter, that virtually all the letters carry only the five-cent U. S. domestic airmail stamp. Air postage from Rio de Janeiro to the U. S. is 20 cents. At that rate it would cost Myers nearly $100 of his own money to make everybody happy.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—How much is a cow's tail worth? County Treasurer Frank A. The money was taken from the "dog license fund" available to the county to pay claims of farmers whose livestock is injured by dogs.

Star Coming to Woodstock

EDWARD EVERETT HORTON

Woodstock, Aug. 30—Business at the Woodstock Playhouse is expected to skyrocket to an all-time high next week for the staging of "Springtime for Henry," starring Edward Everett Horton.

Aside from theatrical engagement, the celebrated actor of stage and screen will be guest speaker at the joint luncheon of Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions clubs at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston, on Thursday.

"Springtime for Henry" and Mr. Horton have become almost a tradition in the American theatre, for they are hardly ever separated, and they have been together for so long that they have grown together, probably, for all time.

Edward Everett Horton has toured "Springtime" for years and years, and while the play has been a colossal success wherever it has been seen, Mr. Horton modestly refuses to attribute its success to his own personality alone. "People may come out of curiosity for me," he says, "but they stay out of contentment for the play."

In the last 26 years, Edward Everett Horton has been seen in more than 100 movies. Just to see him is to laugh out loud. His appearance alone is so associated with his wonderful humor, that his appearance in Ulster county for the first time is bound to rock the locality for many days.

Horton's secret in getting laughs is finding humor in utterly humdrum people. He is always the harassed, flustered, nervous fellow forever in a state of horror or anxiety. If Charles Boyer says, "I love you, do you hear, I love you," Horton murmurs, "Oh dear, this is dreadful."

"Springtime for Henry" opens at the Woodstock Playhouse on Monday (Labor Day) night, Sept. 1, and plays through Saturday, Sept. 6. Popular demand requires two special matinees—Wednesday, Sept. 3, and Saturday, Sept. 6. This is fare for the whole family, and the special matinees make it possible for small fry to see their favorite movie comedian without staying up late to do so.
